

Stephen Sadler

Technology Architect & CEO,
Scate Technologies, Inc.

Stephen Sadler (Steve) was born in Nottingham England, raised in Blenheim, Ontario, Canada and in 2006 he and his family became US Citizens. Steve and his wife Laurie are the founders of the Michigan based Company SCATE® Technologies, Inc. (The inventor and developer of Scate Ignite, BuzTweet.com, ScreenTweet.com and IgniteCAST.com social media and elearning technology.)

Steve is the author of the book titled “Exposure to Closure”, which provides tips on how to build a successful business in today’s rapidly changing world of social media and technology.

Steve currently holds patents and patents pending in various technologies and has assisted many other businesses in developing their own.

Prior to SCATE, Steve worked for many years as a Director of Engineering for a large automotive parts manufacturer. Steve is also a Summa Cum Laude Science Graduate from Central Michigan University and has been honored with awards for leadership and entrepreneurship.

On a personal side, Steve was a competitive amateur bodybuilder who now enjoys coaching football / soccer, playing ice hockey, lifting weights, socializing at his Church (GCC Gingellville Community) and with his family and friends.

